

Using Pandora

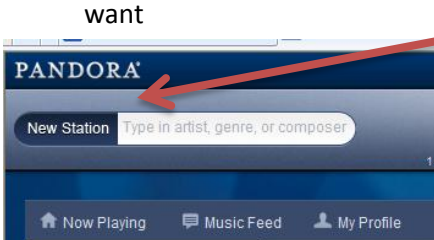

1. When your page loads click on the search bar and type in your favorite singer, genre or song

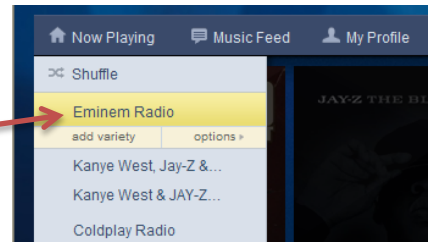

After you type what you want hit “enter” and you should see this

Then you can change your station by clicking on the search bar and typing the station that you want

You can go back to the stations that you have made before or go to your profile, music feed or now playing.

You can change the song, pause it or rate it so other songs like that will either come up or not ping what you want
